

Of course you do! As a JBT Young Investor, you are smart to save more and spend money as wisely as possible. Keeping extra cash in your pocket might not be the best idea. It's time to help your money grow faster.

Help Your Allowance Go Farther... and Farther

If you receive an allowance, you might want to save it in your piggy bank or savings jar. But when you only do that, it doesn't do anything but collect dust. What if you could help it grow into even more money?

Ask a parent to plan regular trips to your local JBT branch so you can build the amount of savings in your JBT Young Investor Savings Account. When you make regular deposits with your allowance and chore money, you'll see your balance grow faster. And your JBT savings account earns interest for you. Yes, the bank pays YOU what's called 'interest' on your money that is saved in your JBT YISC account. Every little bit helps!

Go Crazy With U.S. Coins

Ever wonder how U.S. coins have changed over the years? Check out this great website (with a parent's permission) that's packed with history and full of interesting facts about old and new coins and currency:

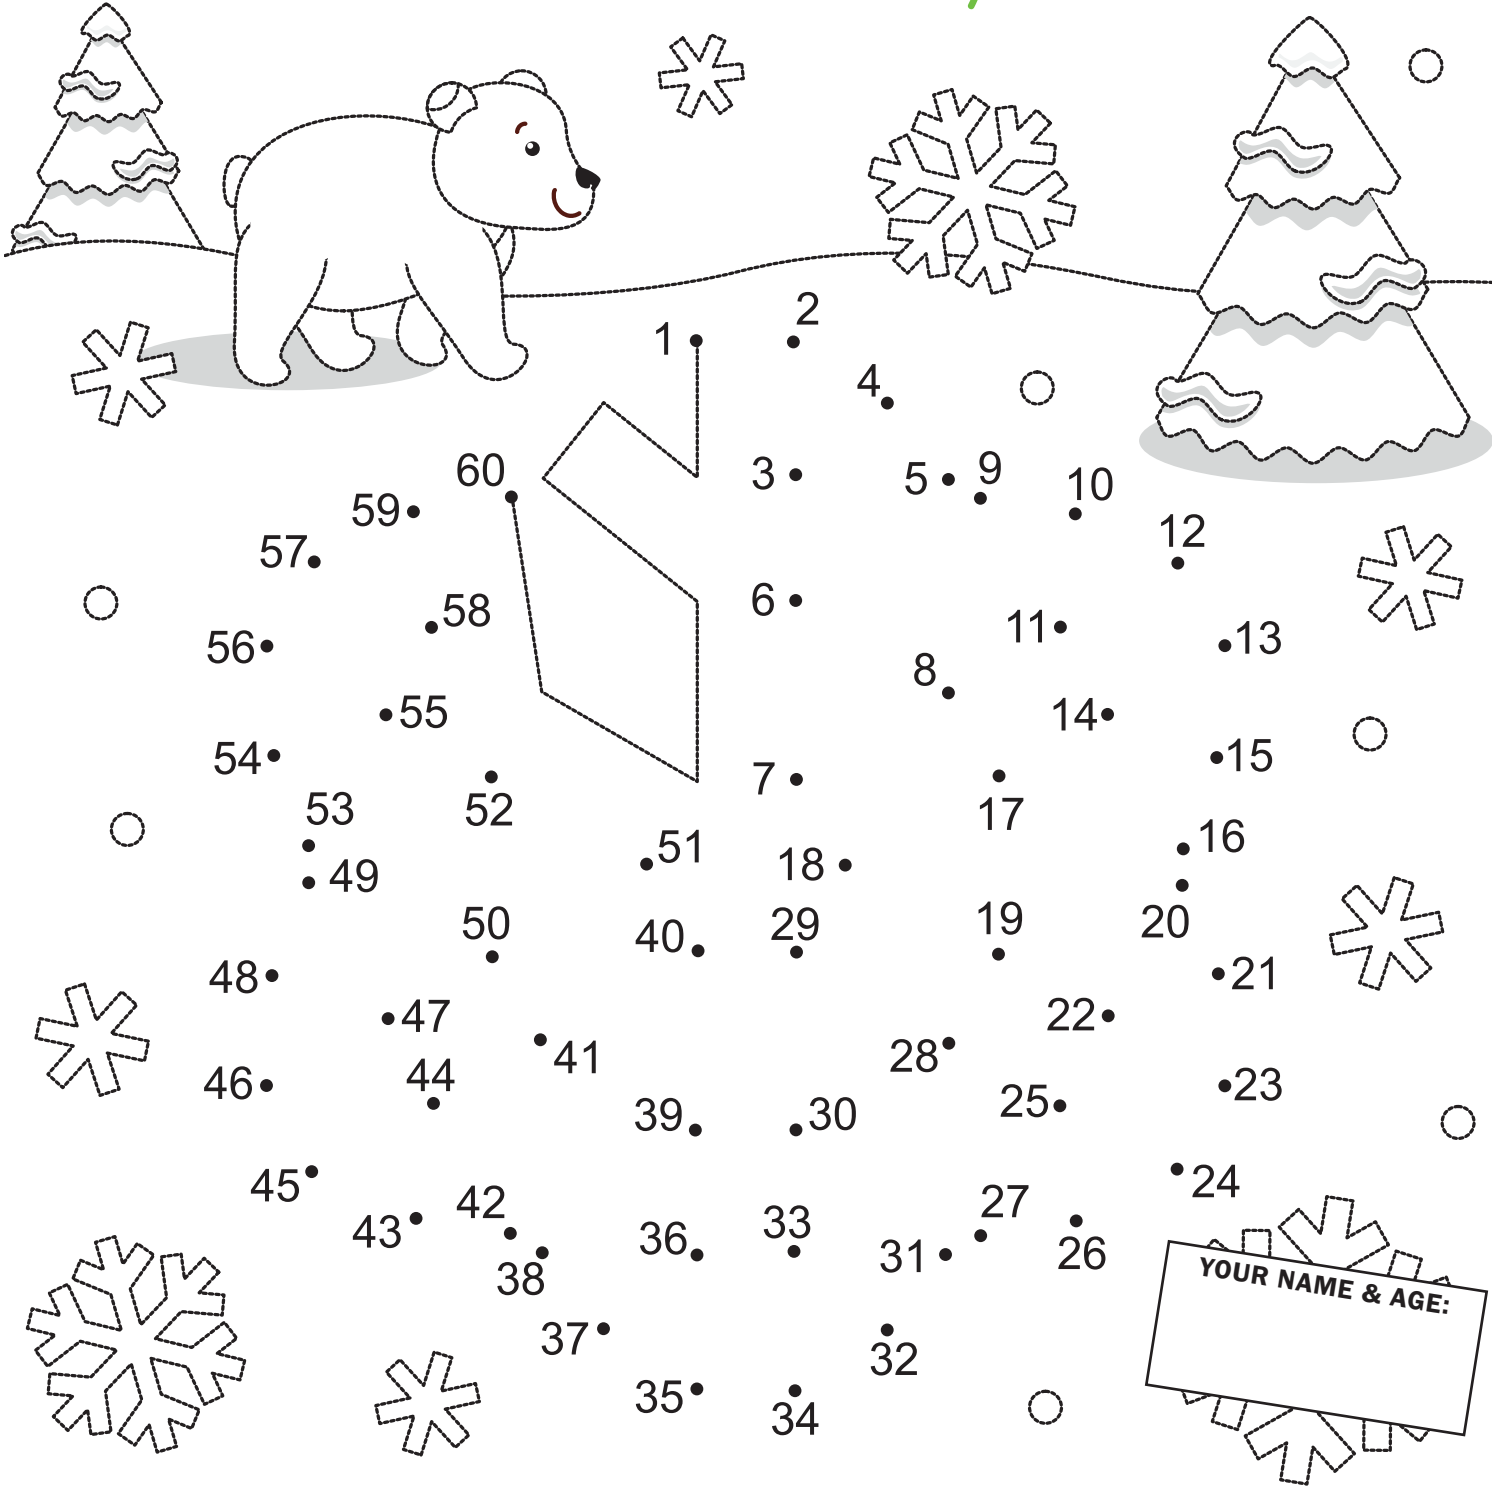

www.usmint.gov/kids

features games and fun content to help you learn more about money.

The United States Mint released the George Rogers Clark National Historical Park quarter in November. The reverse side design featured on this latest quarter depicts George Rogers Clark leading his men through the flooded plains approaching Fort Sackville in Indiana.
